

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. As such, they should not be allowed to air a blatantly partisan documentary without giving equal time to the other side. It is clear that Sinclair is using its media clout to favor a particular politician in the hopes of gaining payback at a later date.

Please prevent the Sinclair Broadcasting Group from abusing the public airwaves. The public airwaves belong to the people, not corporate giants like Sinclair. The rules regulating corporate media giants must be strengthened to prevent future travesties of the public trust. Thank you for your time.
